

CELTA (Certificate in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages)

What is the CELTA course and who is it for?

The CELTA (Cambridge Certificate in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages) is an initial training course in teaching English as a foreign language designed for those with little or no previous teaching experience. It is also suitable for people who have already taught English but have no formal teaching qualifications and teachers of other subjects who wish to retrain as English language teachers. Although designed for native speakers of English, it is also open to non-native speakers who have native speaker competence in both spoken and written English.

Applicants must fulfil the following requirements:

- Aged 18 +
- Level in English: Native English speaker or equivalent (C1+ to C2 or Advanced CAE 'A' or 'B' grade or IELTS 7.5)
- Academic Requirement: University Entrance (UE) or equivalent
- Have the potential to develop the necessary skills to become effective teachers and to complete successfully the written assignments and the assessment of practice teaching

CELTA courses are run at Cambridge English Teaching Awards approved centres worldwide all year round. Certificates are awarded by Cambridge English Language Assessment. Cambridge English approves all aspects of the course including the course programme, the trainers, and facilities. CELTA is an internationally recognised qualification and is the foundation qualification for employment in most recognised language schools. Course tutors are experienced English language teachers who have taught in a wide range of professional situations and are accredited CELTA trainers. All courses are externally moderated by Cambridge English, ensuring that rigorous standards are maintained.

What are the career possibilities with CELTA?

Most non-English speaking countries are very keen to employ Cambridge CELTA trained teachers. CELTA ensures that you have a globally recognised qualification that is accepted as a standard in most parts of the world. Additionally, because of the shortage of teachers with the CELTA, you will be able to be far more selective about where you choose to work and to command better terms and conditions.

The CELTA qualification also gives you access to a range of further study options as your career develops – after a few years of practice you can take the Cambridge Diploma in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (Delta). This course will help you move into academic management, teacher training or materials development, for example.

What help do trainees receive with finding employment after the course?

During the CELTA course, NZLC’s Director of Studies will deliver a Q&A session on how to get your first teaching job. Trainees will attend a workshop dedicated to finding work beyond the course and professional development in English Language Teaching. Assistance will be given in looking for job placements and trainees will receive guidance in preparing job applications and writing a CV. There is also useful information in the Teachers' Survival Kit booklet provided at the end of the course for post-course support and trainees are invited to join the centre's Facebook page and stay abreast of work and professional development opportunities.

What is the basic CELTA course content?

The core of the course is six hours of teaching practice. In this time, trainee teachers teach a variety of lesson types to adult learners of English at two different levels. The supervised teaching practice is supported with guided lesson planning and personalised feedback on lessons. There are seminars or workshops each day, which include demonstration lessons, discussion of teaching principles and techniques, materials evaluation, and language analysis for teaching purposes. Trainees also observe six hours of teaching by experienced teachers and teacher trainers in language classes at the school or on DVD. In addition, candidates write four assignments (750 -1000 words each) on language teaching and learning.

CELTA Study Options

The courses run for 20 days over 5 weeks from 9.30am to 5.30pm, Monday to Thursday. As the course is very intensive, you will also need to allow time in the evenings, on Fridays and weekends for planning lessons and writing assignments.

Is the NZLC CELTA internationally recognised?

Yes it is. NZLC Auckland candidates receive the same internationally recognised Cambridge CELTA certificate as they would at any other centre in the world. Courses may vary from centre to centre but each CELTA centre, trainer and course is externally assessed by Cambridge English to the same high international standard.

Who will train me?

Our tutors have worked internationally and bring a wide range of key experience, qualifications and knowledge to the course. All CELTA trainers undergo a rigorous selection and training process that is monitored by Cambridge.

How is the CELTA course assessed?

The course assessment is continuous; there is no final “exam.” The training centre will make the assessment procedure as transparent as possible. Candidates are able to ask their trainer at any point in the course how they are progressing and what they can do to improve. Candidates are made fully aware of the criteria for assessment throughout the course and are given tutorial sessions to focus on strengths and to identify areas in need of development.

How is the CELTA course graded?

The grades awarded are Pass, Pass B and Pass A and are based primarily on teaching ability and competence in lesson planning. Approximately 67% of candidates are awarded Pass, 5 % Pass A and 24% Pass B. The written assignments are also taken into account for the final grade. Award of the CELTA requires meeting Cambridge criteria for the ability to teach adult learners of English. On very rare occasions, candidates can fail the course if they do not meet the standards. In this case they will not be certified. If any candidate is at risk of failing they are offered additional tutor time and support.

At NZLC we make every effort to be explicit and clear about the grading system. Each lesson is graded with tutor comments explaining the grade and how, if it is appropriate, the grade could be improved for the next lesson. During the course you will have ongoing oral and written feedback and two individual tutorials with your tutor who will explain how you are progressing and support you. A certificate, issued by Cambridge ESOL, is sent out approximately six weeks after the end of the course.
